Craig Spence with Vietnamese Pilot

Program Committee To Present Craig Spence

Craig Spence, roving war correspondent for the Mutual Broadcasting System, will speak at the college Wednesday, March 20, at 10:00 a.m. in the Palace Theatre. Mr. Spence's appearance is being sponsored by the N.H.C. Program Committee as part of its continuing lecture series.

Mr. Spence will speak on "Do They Slant The News." According to the reporter, "Journalists are said to make the first rough draft of history everyday. But how much truth emerges from the powerful and persuasive news media? Are newsmen guilty of slanting and suppressing key stories to protect vested interests?" Mr. Spence intends to answer these questions and others in his appearance here.

As part of his appearance at N.H.C., Mr. Spence will live in the Carpenter Hotel dormitory and spend an entire day on campus informally speaking to students to gauge their opinions, ideas and thoughts on current events. It is hoped every courtesy will be extended

SPRING WEEKEND NEWS

by Tony Lambert

The Student Senate has booked Spanky and Our Gang and the Grass-roots for our Spring Concert. Both groups are nationally recognized and sought after. This event will take place at the State Armory.

That's only to begin the night. After the concert there is an open party at the Swing Thing from 10 P.M. to 2 A.M. Saturday afternoon there is a baseball game with New England College and Saturday evening a formal with Dick Madison's band at the Sheraton-Wayfarer. Sunday will be an eventful day for all CAC students when we hold our first activity on the new campus. Plans have not been completed for this first 'happening' but it will probably include a picnic, tree chopping and the best part of all will be the digging contest to see if we can get an area ready for the construction of our first building which is yet to be announced.

Make this a weekend to be remembered and let's have 100% participation from the student body.

to Mr. Spence by the students while he is here.

Mr. Spence has just returned from his yearly fact-finding tour of Viet Nam where he interviewed officials, flew on missions, and accompanied troops into combat. In addition to his national broadcasts, Mr. Spence has written extensively on Viet Nam for the North Atlantic Newspaper Alliance and the Boston Herald.

Mr. Spence has been a news reporter for ten years, travelling throughout the world. He has served as radio-television press secretary to former Governor Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts and currently serves as a special advisor to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the U.S. Congress, John McCormick. A graduate of Boston University, Mr. Spence makes his headquarters in Boston.

BATHING SUITS IN MARCH

by Dorothy and Helen

The most glamorous event of the school year is the Miss New Hampshire College Pageant sponsored by the Junior Class.

Mrs. Alan Rogers will be MC and scoring will be done by a group of official Miss New Hampshire Pageant judges.

This year's candidates are:

Lana Gill, the only upperclassman, will be sponsored by the Student Senate. Lana will do a comic skit.

Diane Marcoux will perform a baton act. She is being sponsored by Phi Delta Psi Fraternity.

Virginia Mattson, sponsored by the Freshman Class, will sing. Corrine Morrill, performing a satirical skit, is being sponsored by Sigma Kappa Epsilon.

Susan Stockwell, sponsored by Kappa Sigma Beta, accompanies herself on a guitar while singing.

Deborah Winship will sing a song of her choice. Debbie is being sponsored by Beta Gamma Phi Sorority.

The Pageant will be held at the Sheraton Carpenter Grand Ballroom on March 23 at 8:00 p.m. with no admission charge. There will also be other entertainment by talented members of our school.

The program will begin with an appearance by the girls in evening gowns. After a walk down the runway, the girls will be asked one question. There will be a brief intermission while the girls get ready for their bathing suit competition.

During this time tentative folk entertainment will be provided. After this competition there will be more entertainment followed by an intermission when refreshments will be served.

Next will be the competition of the evening — the talent, followed by Charlene Windham's winning number that won her the title last year.

From the Editor

The Committee for Equal Distribution of Scholarship Aid should be applauded for its initial efforts in seeking equal recognition of all the College's Athletic teams with respect to scholarship aid. If the committee's motives are sincere and a suitable program is worked out, I believe that this will mean a definite improvement in the quality of our athletes because it will require a more selective recruitment policy in the future.

Although I am completely in favor of athletics and in the awarding of athletic scholarships, we cannot afford to side-step a more important scholarship aid program — aid to deserving students who meet certain academic and/or organization - head achievement standards. This is definitely a topic worth discussion and further investigation.

Presently, there are two academic scholarships awarded at the college and both are for deserving high school seniors. This is by far the most meager program of its kind around, and it's high-time that an incentive type aid program was instituted at N.H.C.

A student should not be required to maintain a 3.8 average to receive scholarship aid under any proposed program because there are few of us who get these grades. I therefore suggest that scholarships be given to average students too, who have to plug along to get by. This is not an unreasonable request.

Furthermore, I believe that a sound aid program should be set up to help further the efforts of our student leaders and various heads of organizations. In this way promising young leaders can be properly compensated for their often futile efforts and provide further incentive to students aspiring positions of leadership and responsibility.

There are many avenues of approach to initiating a scholarship aid program. Here I will discuss a few:

Student organizations with sizable budgets could allocate a certain sum of money and set this aside for a yearly scholarship; or these organizations could pool their funds into a larger aid program. Thus, by pooling, more scholarships could be given out. I want to emphasize that these scholarships do not have to be large sums, but rather, just enough to show some kind of appreciation and recognition of the deserving student's abilities.

Another area from which funds may be obtained could come from the formation of an alumni scholarship fund to be presented to an outstanding organization head or above average student.

Another attractive method to begin a scholarship program could be set up by New Hampshire College instructors.

Still another source of scholarship funds could be forthcoming from the administration.

Finally, there could be a schoolwide fund raising drive utilizing a raffle.

So, as you can readily see, the number of ways in which to establish a scholarship fund are quite numerous. With the proper consultation and advice, specific rules, regulations, and standards could be set so that each type of organization or group could use these as a guide to handling the proposed program.

In conclusion, I would like to suggest these scholarship proposals to you for your analysis and criticisms. Your comments would be most appreciated as to their merit.

Letter to the Editor

"IT'S SOCK IT TO ME TIME"

Yah! You guys and gals of New Hampshire College are really getting it socked to ya. You have just finished getting socked for both tuition and books, some of you for the first time — tell them upper-classmen!

In the area of tuition, you are paying for a promise that you haven't received — A New Campus. Oh, we know where it's going to be located and what it's going to look like, but I haven't heard of the Administration either! What I would like to see is Progress. It seems strange to me that after four (4) years of talk, nothing has happened, at least not real improvement in facilities. Most of us know that the Administrators of this institution are not greedy for the dollar, they are just a lot sharper than we are.

I shouldn't complain. I am getting two lessons for the price of one (that's a change). The Administration gives the student an informative course of study which shows us how business manipulates the public and it then applies these principles on us. We should be overjoyed for receiving this little fringe benefit, but from both directions? I am having trouble sitting down to listen to some of the excellent lectures.

In the realm of text book prices, they are not too high if the profit from these books is the only financial source for the construction of a new campus. I would like to say that according to both publishers and retail book outlets that the Administration is marking up the prices of local book outlets.

Back to the new school, you'll find that with a simple calculation, the low estimate of income for this institution is about $1,000,000. This does not include night students, Air Force Base students or other incidentals such as text books (again), pencils, transcripts and many other little things you need to graduate, not included in your tuition — tell them upper-classmen. This is good sound business, you know that you don't get something for nothing; or is it you don't get something for something. I am confused, what's it matter; if you don't have the money, borrow it, from the school.

If you need money for academic advancement and do not play the right sport — you are out of luck. For if you happen to be a good student — study diligently, work hard and pay, pay, pay.

Editor's Notes - -

The CR has received news from Mr. Allen Berzofsky, Director of Public Relations, about the Officer Candidate program which should help to clear up any speculation about its future. The National Guard's Officer Candidate school openings have been temporarily frozen on a nation-wide basis.

Mr. Berzofsky believes that the situation will change soon because of the pressure from the various state National Guard units who wish to see the program continued. The CR or the PEN will keep all interested men informed when there is a change.

We students shouldn't hold our breaths in anticipation of a new campus. Instead I think we should be prepared for another negative statement on the campus's prospects.

The latest report from Public Relations Director Berzofsky is that the administration is running into difficulty in financing the program. He states that based on the capital needs of the development program as it now stands, we are unable to secure the desired funds. He goes on to say that the administration hasn't exhausted all areas of financing yet.

JOHNSON AND NIXON WIN IN MOCK PRIMARY

Two weeks ago 335 students, comprising one-third of the student body at NHC, registered their preference in a Mock Presidential Primary sponsored by the college's Young Republicans. Richard Nixon and President Johnson came out on top.

In the presidential preference poll, Richard Nixon topped the Republican ballot with 154 out of 205 votes cast, 75% of the vote. The only serious contender to Nixon was a write-in for Nelson Rockefeller in which the N.Y. Governor received 34 votes, 16% of the total. George Romney got only 11 votes, or 5%. Write-ins were also recorded for Ronald Reagan (2), and one each for Charles Percy, Henry Cabot Lodge, Barry Goldwater and Paul Fisher.

On the Democratic side of the ballot President Johnson received 80 of 130 votes, or 62%. Robert Kennedy received 5 write-ins, George Wallace, 3 and Edward Kennedy, 1.

In comparing the poll with a similar one conducted at the college by the Young Republicans in January, the strongest gains were made by McCarthy and Nixon. Two months ago McCarthy got only 4.2%, increasing his vote this time by almost 28%. Nixon, who received 58% in January, added another 17% to his vote-getting ability. Rockefeller dropped from 22% to 16%, and Romney dropped to an insignificant 5% from the 9% he received in January. On the eleven Viet Nam questions, it is interesting to note that while 51% felt it was not in the U.S. interest to enter Viet Nam, 62% believe it is now in the vital interest of the U.S. to be in Viet Nam.

So guys and gals of NHCAC you've been socked, but good. Sit there and you'll pay more for the same little seat in the same little crowded room over that same little fruit store next year.

Sincerely yours to be socked,
Melvin J. Severance III

Your letter is indicative of the current mood on campus and I'm sure you have at least one thousand sympathizers.

Off Campus Freedom Of Students

The Student Personnel Services Department is currently discussing the following freedoms.

Consideration is being given to the following:

"A. Exercise of Rights of Citizenship. College and university students are both citizens and members of the academic community. As citizens, students should enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right of petition that other citizens enjoy and, as members of the academic community, they are subject to the obligations which accrue to them by virtue of this membership. Faculty members and administrative officials should insure that institutional powers are not employed to inhibit such intellectual and personal development of students. . .

B. Institutional Authority and Civil Penalties. Activities of students may upon occasion result in violation of law. In such cases, institutional officials should be prepared to apprise students of sources of legal counsel and may offer other assistance. Students who violate the law may incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws. Only where the institution's interests as an academic community are distinct and clearly involved should the special authority of the institution be asserted. Institutional action should be independent of community pressure."

These rights are the basic rights of all students. In order to insure that all future students at the CAC have these rights we must let the Student Personnel Services Department know how we feel about these rights. You can do this by contacting your representatives to this department: Larry Kelly and Paul Dolbec.

EDITOR'S NOTES

Rumors around campus have it that NHC will, as it must, go non-profit if it wishes adequate funds. The question, when posed to Mr. Berzofsky, was neither confirmed nor denied.

I believe, however, as most of us do, that this would indeed open the door to acquiring the needed capital in a much less time-consuming and economical fashion.

WHAT'S NEWS IN TUCUCO?

by Tony Lambert

Bill Meehan, CAC's representative to the Peace Corps, is news in Tucuco. Bill graduated last June and went immediately into Peace Corps training in Tucson, Arizona. There he underwent intensive training in Spanish, Peace Corps ideals and specialized courses that would help him in his future work. After 16 weeks training, Bill was assigned to a Spanish Mission in Tucuco, Venezuela.

Bill's main objective in Venezuela is to establish a cooperative for the farmers. This goal is almost impossible and if ever accomplished, it will not be seen during Bill's tour of duty. Despite this, Bill will still do the best he can. While trying to establish a cooperative Bill has already raised the standard of living, if only slightly, at this point.

Bill has already succeeded in convincing these Venezuelans to sleep on beds and not on straw-covered ground. He is currently having the local soil tested to determine the type vegetable and fruit that can be grown in the area.

Because the seasons in South America are the reverse of ours they are currently coming out of their very humid and extremely hot summer and are entering the rain season.

Despite these odds Bill works diligently because he believes in the ideals of the Peace Corps, but most of all, he does his best because he is a citizen of the United States and he knows that his every action, good or bad, is being evaluated by the people he is working with.

Help Bill to keep up his morale by sending him a letter this week.

What is a SUPMAC?

But the question is — will the administration accept the non-profit solution as the easiest way out of its merry-go-round financing dilemma?

STUDENT OF THE MONTH

by George Zottos

WILLIAM E. MODIS

A pleasing personality that's the "Pride of the Irish", belongs to this month's outstanding student — Bill Modis.

Bill hails from Clinton, Mass. where he became an alumnus of Clinton High School, Class of 1964.

This year, Bill is Vice-President of the Senior Class and he has also been honored in being a member of the N.H.C. Judiciary Board. Rounding out his active senior schedule, Bill is also a member of the Newman Club and Sigma Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Bill's future plans are in teaching on the high school level but unfortunately these plans remain indefinite.

The staff of this paper and I wish to extend our congratulations to Bill for being selected this month's outstanding student and also our best wishes in the years ahead.

1967-1968 Basketball Program

Now that the 1967-1968 basketball season has come to an end, New Hampshire College has completed one of its most successful in recent history.

The New Hampshire College basketball team finished the season with a 17 and 8 record, which included 2 overtime losses, a 2 point loss, and a 1 point loss. They went to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Regional Tournament.

During the 1967-1968 season, New Hampshire College, for the first time, ventured out into an entirely four-year college program. Playing the likes of Loyola of Montreal, which is rated number 5 in Canada, and had a ball club which consisted mainly of All-Star American boys. They played Lyndon State, Franklin Pierce College, Nathaniel Hawthorne College, Emerson College, and New England College.

There were many new and exciting rivalries on the Penmen's schedule this season, and the Penmen met the challenge with tremendous hustle and desire.

Gone from the 1967-1968 team will be, co-captains Bob Cruz, and John Jordan. Also gone is Joe Raycraft, who has been an outstanding performer on his four-years on the varsity.

Returning are Den Lapointe, David Frederick, Wally Rozmus, Dan Hagan, Ted Karonis, Sam Lewis, and from the Freshman squad, Ray Boucher, Mike Tenzar, Jay Lane, Larry Nordt, Johnnie Greene, and a number of other boys that should help the Penmen next year.

The Penmen made it to the finals of the New England Intercollegiate Basketball Association, only to lose in overtime to Franklin Pierce College, 93 - 88.

History now records what the Penmen have done. Certainly, an ambitious schedule was carried out. Coach Lou D'Allesandro, and his Penmen had nothing to be ashamed of, they did a very outstanding job.

New Hampshire College is looking forward to next year, having such powers as McGill University of Montreal, Canada, Husson College from Bangor, Maine, Nebraska Wesleyan University, Otterbein College together with the New England Intercollegiate Basketball Association foes, it should make for a very interesting season.

In summation, the Penman met the challenge well, and hope to continue meeting the challenge in the future. Certainly, New Hampshire College can be justly proud of its 1967-1968 basketball team and the members of the team. We are anxiously looking forward to the 1968-1969 season, and feel that the great loss of Jordan, Raycraft, and Cruz will be absorbed by our up-coming Freshmen.

The latest statistics published by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, dated February 28, 1968, show that New Hampshire College is 13th in the nation in winning margins, 3rd in the nation in team offense and 12th in the nation in team field goal shooting. This is a good indication of the outstanding season that the New Hampshire College basketball team has just completed.

STASSEN at NHCAC

Harold Stassen spoke two weeks ago to a small assembly of N H C students in the Student Lounge--his object was to put his name before us as a Presidential candidate. Perhaps I should end here in deferential respect to Stassen, the man, who was once the Israfel of his party; but, since he has decided to play the politician. I must extend my criticism.

Stassen came, Stassen spoke,--but Stassen did not conquer. As in the case of his fellow Presidential hopefuls, Mr. Stassen managed to say very little in a great many words. Frankly, we were not too surprised; by now we are quite used to the basic pattern of the politico and his speeches.

It took a while to do it, but we finally managed to pin down a few of Mr. Stassen's political policies despite his hazy but colorful method of delivery. On the Viet-Nam "conflict" Mr. Stassen would call for a gradual cease-fire followed by invitations to the leaders of both North and South for a "lasting, peaceful settlement." In so doing, the draft would be drastically reduced and "our boys" would be brought home--providing, of course, that they preferred the steaming swamp lands and cesspools of America's cities to the jungles of South-East Asia! He further pointed out how peaceful educational action had saved Malaysia and the Phillipines from Communism. As he spoke I was reminded of the fact that Malaysia and the Phillipines were not, like Viet Nam, border-to-border with rice-hungry Red China.

It was even more unfortunate that, in this meager exposition, the greatest questions of all were not even touched. Questions such as: is the war in Viet Nam immoral?, can the U.S. be convicted of the same crimes we executed the Nazis for at Nuremberg?, is the draft grossly illegal?, is American Democracy spiritually dead?

Stassen, the politician, came and said very little that we haven't heard somewhere before--his claim to originality could only be based on the fact that he said these things rather weakly. If this was Stassen the Candidate, how can we possibly think much of Stassen the man?
