

*1990 Catherine A. Dunfey Award
on the occasion of the 64th New England Circle*

Presented to:

Henry E. Hampton

Parker House
Boston, Massachusetts
May 7, 1990

The Catherine A. Dunfey Award is given annually to a person or organization that exemplifies the personal courage, commitment and compassion of Catherine Dunfey: mother, grandmother and great grandmother of the Dunfey family. The Award designee will have demonstrated leadership, reflecting a significant and positive impact on a pressing human or social condition somewhere in the world. The recipient will also evidence the capacity to work closely with women and men of different races, ideologies, and professions while striving to bring about constructive change in our world.

Many believe that freedom, justice and opportunity are the three components of equality which comprise the American prize. Our Catherine A. Dunfey Award recipient made vivid the long, hard and continuing quest by African Americans for that prize in his award-winning production, "EYES ON THE PRIZE." The producer of the series, HENRY HAMPTON, is the recipient of the Catherine A. Dunfey Award. As the public information officer for the Unitarian Universalist Association in the 1960's, he was an observer of the Movement. It was during that time he became determined to document the pain and progress of the Movement.

Hampton's quiet and congenial manner masks a dauntless courage and unswerving commitment to improvement of the human condition. With more tenacity than money, Hampton was able to enlist people of all races and institutions, large and small, to understand the importance of assembling the pictures, pain and progress of those times. His momentous work has given participants and non-participants in the Movement, and those who were not yet born a clear understanding that can only be derived by watching "EYES ON THE PRIZE" in quiet tension-free thoughtfulness. It is a work of towering importance. It is a work of which Catherine A. Dunfey would not only be very proud but would feel needs widespread exposure. As her children and family, so do we. Henry Hampton, we salute you.

FOUNDED 1974. "Our purpose is to assemble a diverse group of concerned individuals for discussions of social, political, literary and educational topics; our goal is to exchange challenging ideas and opinions that can lead to constructive change in our lives, our nation and our world" . . . The Dunfee Family

Tonight, New England Circle revisits the Civil Rights movement. We are very fortunate because our Discussion Leaders are a personification of one of the most significant periods in American history. Our civil rights movement revisited features the narrator and producer of the widely-acclaimed television documentary, "EYES ON THE PRIZE." Moreover, our Discussion Leaders were active participants in the Civil Rights movement; and they continue to commit their lives to the objectives of those turbulent times.

The prize of the civil rights movement was and still is, freedom, justice and opportunity for all Americans.

Discussion Leader HENRY HAMPTON is the producer of "EYES ON THE PRIZE." He assembles a hard-hitting account of the movement with moving recounts from many of the men and women who were there. Hampton is the Founder and President of BLACKSIDE, a television and film production company.

Discussion Leader JULIAN BOND is the voice, the narrator of "EYES ON THE PRIZE." As a leader in "SNICK," the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, Bond experienced some of the more harrowing and dangerous times in quest of the prize. A former Georgia State Senator and host of his own syndicated television show, Bond maintains that men and women of good will should still march, challenge in the courts and petition our lawmaking bodies for the prize.

Moderator Peter Meade is host of the PETER MEADE Show on WBZ Radio, an issues-oriented talkshow. Meade has been exposed to corollary dynamics of the civil rights movement; he was the Coordinator of Public Safety during the early days of Boston's tension-filled desegregation crisis. Meade has won local and national awards from the Associated Press and the prestigious International Radio Festival. Boston Globe columnist Jack Thomas has called Meade "one of the clearest thinkers on talkradio."

New England Circle invites men and women from different cultures, political persuasions, diverse professions and points of view to engage our Discussion Leaders and enliven our Circles. We invite as many guests as we can to participate in the limited number of Circles held each year. However, once a part of the Circle, always a member of New England Circle.

New England Circle evolves out of a tradition inaugurated here at the Parker House in the 18th Century. Tonight's discussion of justice and equality may awaken the spirit of those who inaugurated these colloquiums, then called the Saturday Club. Literary giants, such as Ralph Waldo Emerson, Charles Dickens, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and others, gathered regularly for lively informal discussions. These meetings formed a tradition that continues to influence today's Circles.

Many of tonight's Circle members are from our colleges and universities. They can help assure our Discussion Leaders that this crucial period of American history is not distorted or obscured — making a mockery of our martyred men, women and children, who died to make this country abide by its creed. When we revisit the civil rights movement, do we reopen old wounds, without the benefit of new medicine? Will many of tonight's participants who were not alive during this time, let this rich legacy live on or will America forget? Will the classrooms and curricula remain silent on this important moment in American history?
