Student Organizations
The purpose of the Drama Club is to provide plays for the SNHU student body, faculty, staff, and the greater Manchester area. The drama club will also provide students with different events and creative activities pertaining to the concept of drama throughout the academic year.

The Coordinators of Activities and Programming Events (CAPE) is a student run organization committed to enriching campus life at Southern New Hampshire University. By working with other clubs, organizations, and departments, CAPE provides social, recreational, educational, and cultural programming to the campus community.
The ADGroup is a college chapter of the American Advertising Federation (AAF), a nationally affiliated link to provide valuable industry experience outside the classroom to students with a common interest. The purpose of ADGroup is to develop, heighten, and exercise student's talent while building and demonstrating leadership skills.

AD Group

Environmentally Sustainable Students' (ESS) mission is to serve our community as an environmentally sustainable resource through education, service, and activism. The club works to conduct yearly environmental audits to better understand what areas on campus they can help make more environmentally sustainable.

Environmentally Sustainable Students (ESS)
Kappa Delta Phi is a National Fraternity with over 30 chapters across New England. The brothers at SNHU proudly uphold the fraternal ideals of kinship, duty, and philanthropy. Kappa Delta Phi is a brotherhood for life. The ideals learned in college will only help in one's pursuit of success in the future.

All fraternities and sororities recognized at Southern New Hampshire University are governed by the Inter-Greek Council. The purpose of the Inter-Greek Council is to foster fraternal cooperation with the university and community. They also supervise fraternal conduct and make such necessary rules and regulations as the council sees fit.

Kappa Delta Phi
Order of Omega is an Greek honor society. The purpose of this organization is to recognize fraternity men and women who have displayed a strong sense of leadership in their Greek activities and have a strong character and academic standing, to encourage them to continue their success and to inspire others to do the same.

Phi Delta Psi is a local chapter established in 1966. Phi Delta Psi brothers live by four points: brotherly love, social responsibility, integrity, and intellectual awareness. Phi Delta Psi is committed to the good and welfare of both SNHU and the community by volunteering its services to philanthropic events.
The SNHU Dance Club has regularly forty active members in attendance at weekly practices to learn routines in hip-hop and jazz. These weekly practices prepare the dancers for numerous performances throughout the year including many of the varsity Basketball Games. The club was chosen as the 2009-2010 Synergy Award recipients.

The Observer is Southern New Hampshire University's student newspaper. They publish once a month between September and May, totaling 6 to 8 issues each school year. They provide the SNHU community with news, sports, entertainment and business that is accurate informative, timely, interesting and well written.

Observer (Student Newspaper)
The Field Hockey Club is in its third year of recognition as a club team at Southern New Hampshire University. The club welcomes all players of either gender and encourages anyone who wants to stay active, meet new people, get involved and have fun. The club was chosen at the 2009-2010 Most Improved Organization.

The mission of Kappa Chi is to encourage higher education ideals and practices in our institutions, to promote good citizenship, individual character and fellowship; and to oppose discrimination on the basis of race, color, or creed, in order to strengthen the bonds of sisterhood. Today Kappa Chi maintains that mission by being the most culturally diverse sorority at SNHU.
Phi Delta Beta is a local sorority committed to supporting the sisters and forming everlasting friendships not only with each other but with their advisor. As a sorority, they stress campus involvement, leadership, and academic excellence. They also volunteer around the Manchester area community.

The Sisters of Phi Omega Psi have been on campus since 1971. They take pride being the oldest and currently the largest sorority on campus. Each year they volunteer hundreds of hours towards community service and raise money for all kinds of charities. Not only do they help national charities, but they are also vibrantly active in the local community.
The Outreach Association is a group whose purpose is to bring students together who have common interests in services, plan and execute group service projects, educate and provide awareness of social issues and work towards creating a better community. The group received the 2009-2010 Creative Marketing Award.

The International Students Association (ISA) promotes and embraces diversity among SNHU students, both international and domestic, by sharing cultural knowledge and experiences through fun activities such as social gatherings, games and trips. The group received the 2009-2010 Scott W. Caswell Outstanding Organization Award.

The men's soccer team continued its stretch of dominance during the 2009 fall season. The Penmen concluded their season with a 14-4-4 record, leading the entire Northeast-10 during the regular season. Although falling to Saint Anselm in the Northeast-10 quarterfinals, the Penmen collected NCAA tournament wins against Southern Connecticut State and Wilmington before falling to Le Moyne in the East Region final game. Richard Kentish and Adrian Schippers were named to the Daktronics Division II All-America team for the second straight year. In addition to Kentish and Schippers, goalkeeper Sean Lambert was named to the First Team Daktronics All-Region team. Richard Kentish was a First Team selection to the NSCAA/Performance Subaru Division II All-America Team, while Marc Goulet and Adrian Schippers were Second Team and Third Team honorees, respectively. Ruben Resendes was also named a Third Team All-Region choice by the NSCAA.
The women's soccer team concluded regular season play with a 4-13-3 record, but still managed to record impressive personal accolades along the way. 18 of 20 games were either won or lost by one goal. Ariel Teixeira led the Penmen team in goals and points, posting 10 goals (including two game winners) and 23 points. Teixeira also garnered praise from the Northeast-10 Conference, being named to the First Team All-Conference team. Daniela Abruzzese was selected to the league’s All-Rookie Team by the league’s coaches. Teixeira was also named to the Daktronics Division II East Region All-Region First Team in addition to being named a Second Team NSCAA All-Region and First Team NEWISA All-New England selection.
The men's cross country team had seven players on its roster for the 2009 Fall athletics season, with third year coach Jaime Gratton leading this year's squad. Sophomore Jason Bays led the Penmen runners with his times in five out of the seven races on the season. Senior Sam Tarrant bested his teammates in the two remaining races. Junior Michael Smith and freshman Tyler Parks also gained recognition throughout the Northeast by coming to the aid of a Fallen runner during the New England Cross Country Championship. As other runners ran by the fallen Boston University runner, Smith and Parks slowed their progress to aid the runner. An estimated 100 other runners did not stop to help the individual, and as a result, both Smith and Parks forfeited their chance to finish the 47-team race.
The SNHU women's cross country team competed seven times during the 2009 fall season and enjoyed great individual as well as team successes. In the classroom, Jacquelyn Dussault, Melissa Hurley, and Christina Montefusco were named to the USTFCCCA Division II All-Academic Team. Their excellent performances on the cross country courses have been just as noteworthy. Emma Lundberg set the school record for a 5k race time by turning in a 19:03 time at the Pop Crowell Invitational, placing eight seconds behind the eventual winner of the race. Lundberg now holds five out of the top six best times on record for Penmen 5k runners. Jacquelyn Dussault ran a season-best 20:45 at the UMass Dartmouth Invitational, Melissa Hurley posted a season-best time of 20:00.7 at the Northeast-10 Championship, placing 39th out of 158 participants, and Christina Montefusco ran a season best 20:51 at the New England Championships while improving her time in each of the first five races of the season. Laura Durvin also participated in six of seven races, posting a season-best time of 23:24.7.
The women’s volleyball team jumped out to their best start in Penmen history, blanking opponents in each of the first five games building up to a seven game winning streak. The Penmen posted season sweeps against Saint Anselm and Saint Michael’s. The Penmen also led the Northeast-10 conference in blocks by a wide margin, posting an average of 2.41 per game. Junior Stephanie Dluginski led the Penmen in kills for the third straight season, posting 288, and placed fifth in the Northeast-10 in that category.

Dluginski was also second in the conference in points per game with 4.34. Danielle Coffey averaged 1.22 blocks per game, leading the Northeast-10 in that statistic. Dluginski also garnered a nomination to the Northeast-10 All-Conference Third Team, the second time she has collected All-Conference honors in her collegiate career.
Hockey
The SNHU hockey team struggled, but put up a fight in its Northeast-10 Tournament game against Saint Michael's, eventually falling to the Purple Knights 7-5. The Penmen also played their first-ever game in the Verizon Wireless Arena, falling to Stonehill on a goal late in the third period. Troy Maybury (9-16-25) led the team in assists and points, while newcomer Brandon Bradley (10-5-15) led the team with 10 goals. Kent Honeyman placed eighth in the Northeast 10 in defenseman scoring, tallying three goals and 10 assists (3-10-13). Shane Brooks led the Penmen in wins with three and split the goaltending duties with Mike Mastracci, who posted two victories.
Men's Basketball
The men’s basketball team posted a 15-14 record this year, making the playoffs for the third straight season. The Penmen upset the College of Saint Rose in the first round of the Northeast-10 playoffs, giving Head Coach Stan Spirou his 499th career victory in the process. Although falling to Merrimack in the quarterfinals of the playoffs, many players racked up solid seasons for the Penmen. Tory Stapleton led the Penmen with 13.3 points per game. Stapleton also led all starters in field goal percentage with .490. In addition, Stapleton also placed third in the Northeast-10, collecting an average of 3.41 offensive rebounds per game. Stephen Wood averaged a team-high 30.8 minutes per game while leading the team in blocks (34) and steals (47).
Women's
The women's basketball team, led by coach Karen Pinkos, finished the season with a 13-17 record. Making the playoffs for the fourth time in five years under Pinkos' tutelage, the Penmen were eliminated in the first round by Assumption College. None the less, solid seasons were had by several key members of the Penmen. Ashara Carrington led the Penmen with her 15.3 points per game, which was followed up by Jenny McDade and her 14.1 points per game. Carrington was named to the Second Team All-Conference and McDade was a Third Team selection, both picks made by Northeast-10 coaches. Sloane Sorrell, a freshman, burst onto the scene, scored 11.2 points per game. Sorrell's excellent performances this season have garnered her recognition as the Northeast-10's Freshman of the Week four times. Sorrell was also named to the conference's All-Rookie team.
The baseball team continued to improve under second-year head coach Scott Loiseau. The Penmen won 18 games and were in the hunt for a Northeast-10 playoff spot until the season's final weekend. SNHU posted sweeps of UMass Lowell and Bentley during the season and also played perennial power Franklin Pierce to a 3-3 tie. Junior Tim Rines and senior Eric Pelletier each collected their 100th career hit during the season, while senior Steve Golbranson and sophomore Brad Monroe each recorded their 100th career strikeout. The Penmen had four players named to the Northeast-10 All-Rookie Team: Matt Boulter, Taylor Eames, John Pickowicz and Derrick Sylvester.
The softball team narrowly missed out on a Northeast-10 playoff berth, tying for the eighth and final spot but losing out on a tiebreaker. With seven freshmen on the roster, the Penmen were inconsistent, but posted 18 victories. Freshman Katie Stanley was a Northeast-10 Third Team All-Conference selection as well as an All-Rookie Team choice after hitting a single-season school record 12 home runs and batting .276. Senior Andrea Claudi wrapped up her career as SNHU's all-time home run leader with 23 and also recorded her 100th career hit during the season. Head coach Deb Robitaille also collected her 100th victory.
Men's Tennis

The SNHU men's tennis team went through a rebuilding year, with several new faces and a new coach. In addition, the top returner from last season and expected No. 1 David Spaggiari went down with an injury and only competed in a handful of matches. The Penmen did win three of their final four matches to close out the season, picking up victories over American International, Saint Michael's and Franklin Pierce. A pair of freshmen, Jared Wright and Tim Hamilton, played in the top two spots for Southern New Hampshire for a majority of the spring season.
Women's Tennis
The women's tennis team enjoyed its best season in program history in 2010. The Penmen posted a 20-2 record, won the Northeast-10 regular season and tournament titles and qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year. SNHU defeated Adelphi in the first round before falling to Queens, snapping a 19-match win streak, longest in program history. Amber Chandronnait repeated as Northeast-10 Player of the Year, again running through conference singles play unbeaten. Alena Mukdaprakorn was the league's Freshman of the Year and was also a First Team All-Conference selection, while Catalina Echeverry and Kara Pease were also named to the All-Conference squad.
The men’s lacrosse team opened up their season with a win over nationally-ranked Molloy. The Penmen also picked up victories over Florida Southern, Assumption and Franklin Pierce. Freshman Greg Reynolds led the team in scoring with 28 goals and 17 assists for 45 points en route to Northeast-'10 All-Rookie Team honors. Sophomore Andrew Brown finished with 26 goals and four assists, while junior Keith Merluzzo tallied 17 goals and 11 assists.
Women's Lacrosse
The SNHU women's lacrosse team went through some ups and downs during the season, but posted a 9-8 record and advanced to the Northeast-10 semifinals for the fifth straight season. The Penmen posted a 16-13 win over Bentley in the first round of the NE-10 tourney. Junior Sherry Darrell set school records for points (105) and goals (70) in a season and was named Northeast-10 First Team All-Conference. Carole Lee, Kaley Waterman and Emily Mongea were also NE-10 All-Conference selections. Sophomore goalie Hannah Moriarty made a single-season school record 203 saves on the season.
Although the SNHU golf team narrowly missed qualifying for the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year, the Penmen enjoyed a successful season. Southern New Hampshire finished third out of 12 schools at the Northeast-10 Championship and also won its own SNHU Penmen Invitational for the second straight year. In the spring SNHU finished second at the Mike Bello Invitational. Junior D.J. Lantz qualified to compete at the NCAA regional as an individual player and finished eighth out of 108 players, missing qualifying for the national tournament by one stroke. He posted six top-3 finishes on the season and recorded the lowest single-season stroke average (74.1) in program history. Senior Shane Winslow became the third Penmen player to capture NE-10 Player of the Year honors as he prevailed in a playoff at the NE-10 Championship in October.
