SURVEY RESULTS

The following survey results were obtained from going door to door to residents of Elmwood Gardens, Manseau Manor and Kelley Falls. We were interested in gathering information regarding residents' skills and talents, willingness or interest in starting a small home-based business, level of commitment to a training program and what effect supplemental income would have on residents' current benefits.

Preliminary results of the survey indicate a high probability that home-based businesses would be viable and welcomed. The results of the survey indicate that many residents have hobbies or interests that could easily be transformed into home-based microbusinesses.

Currently there are 232 occupied apartments in family public housing. We gathered information from 60 households which is 26% of the total occupied apartments.

1. We surveyed 13.6% males and 86.3% females

2. Results of the survey indicated that the majority of residents have lived in family public housing 7 years and less, however there are a few residents who have lived in public housing 8 years or more.

This question pertains to the highest level of education completed at the time of the survey. The majority of residents, 62.6%, have not continued their education beyond the H.S. diploma or GED level. Results also indicate that 36.2% have either had some college or completed higher education level courses.
5. Indicate from which sources monthly income is generated?

Source:

- Part time work: 4.6%
- Full time work: 3.5%
- AFDC: 39.5%
- SSI: 5.8%
- Food stamps: 39.5%
- Child support: 3.5%
- Other: 3.5%

Of those surveyed only 8.1% receive income from either part-time or full-time work. In addition, only 3.5% receive income from child support.

6. Indicate Supportive Services that are available to you?

- Child care: 34.5%
- Medicaid: 65.5%

This question was misinterpreted as supportive services used, not available. All residents who receive AFDC have child care and Medicaid as available services. However, if they do not work, they would typically not utilize the service. Thus, some of the respondents understood the question, while others did not. This confusion becomes more apparent when you compare the percent of residents who work part-time or full-time.

7. Do you have a car?

Out of the total surveyed, 59.0% indicated they had a car, while 41.0% indicated they did not. However, more importantly, of those respondents interested in participating in a training program, 56.0% did not have a car while 44.0% did.

8. Regarding a checking or savings accounts, respondents indicated the following:

- 32.0% indicated they had a checking account
- 9% indicated they had a savings account
- 59.0% of the total respondents do not have either account.

When asked to elaborate as to the reasons why, they provided the following reasons:

- 65.0% indicated they had no money
- 3.4% indicated they did not have a car
- 7.0% indicated they did not want to show income
- 24.1% indicated they did not want or need one
When this question was explored on an informal basis, it was discovered that many residents cannot afford to pay service charges on checking and savings accounts particularly when there are minimum balances required. In addition, many were concerned that Welfare would cut their benefits if they generated any type of savings. They believe Welfare would assume they did not need benefits if they were able to save money. Some respondents indicated they did not want to be put in a situation where they had to show Welfare their monthly statements and purchases.

It should be noted that issues surrounding the acquisition and spending of money is of great concern to this population. In addition, there appear to be many disincentives to saving money and planning for future purchases. Often residents are forced to spend twice as much on an item because they do not have credit, or cannot generate a savings. Purchase options are usually rent to own stores with large finance charges.

MEMORANDUM

TO: All MMDC Directors
FROM: Shelley Proulx
RE: Meeting Agenda/ Minutes for Dec. 8th
DATE: December 15, 1992

The first meeting of the MMDC Board of Directors was held as planned on Tuesday, December 8, 1992. Those in attendance were Shelley Proulx, Luis Roman, Steve Dorr and Mary Ellen Martin. The following was addressed at the meeting:

BYLAWS Shelley distributed copies of sample bylaws for the group to review.

Steve Dorr suggested we enlist the services of Gary Bosivert to assist us with the Bylaws and 501(c)(3) Application process and said he would set up an appointment with him.

The group unanimously agreed to select officers at the next meeting and discuss roles and responsibilities at that time.

The group unanimously agreed that there would need to be a separate checking account to house the funds to be loaned but would check with Grace about regulation and procedure.

There was some discussion about who would be signing the checks. The issue will have to be addressed to the Full Board at the next meeting.

The group unanimously agreed that we need to establish a Loan Committee.

Shelley said she would contact area bankers in addition to Don Mason for assistance.

The meeting adjourned at 12:15 with another meeting scheduled for Thursday, December 17, 1992 at 10:00AM in the first floor conference room.

RE: DEC. 17 Board Meeting Recap

An MMDC Board Meeting was held on Thursday, December 17, 1992 at 10:00 at The MHRA building. Those who attended included; Don Mason, Pat Ryan, Luis Roman, Ginny and Bruce Bosco, Steve Dorr, Grace Hicks Grogan and Shelley Proulx.

The meeting was called at 10:05 and a discussion of the BYLAWS took place. Shelley passed out another draft copy of the BYLAWS to each director for review. The Bylaws will be finalized at the next meeting.

There was discussion on where the corporate assets would go in the case of dissolution. Shelley said that the assets must go to another 501 (c)(3) charitable organization according to The Articles. Don agreed.

Grace suggested that we put in the BYLAWS that assets go to a Housing related charitable organization and cited The MHRF as a possibility if this occurred. Article #4 would have to be amended to reflect this.

Don said that Article #2 should be amended to include a more general provision that would cover MMDC’s lending activity. He said that we should amend it to read, "any activity permitted under New Hampshire Law governing nonprofit organizations".

The vote was unanimous that #2 and #4 be amended accordingly.

Shelley said that she needs a tape recorder to keep a more accurate account of the minutes. Grace said that she could provide her with one.

Election of Officers were held. All agreed that we would have a Chairman, Vice Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer and a slate was built. Nominated for these spots (in order) were Pat Ryan, Luis Roman, Grace Grogan and Steve Dorr. This slate was accepted by the board.

The Board agreed that all checks disbursed from the MMDC shall have two signatures. Those who will be authorized to sign the checks will be the Treasurer, Secretary and The Chairman of the Board.

Bruce Bosco said that possibly three persons could be authorized to sign even though the checks would only require two signatures.
Don Mason said that we will need to prepare a resolution stating that we will need two signatures on the checks.

Pat Ryan said that we should look into obtaining a pro bono attorney to handle the affairs of the MMDC. Grace and Steve said that they would talk to Attorney Craig.

Steve Dorr said that he felt that there needs to be two separate checking accounts for the MMDC. One would be the general operating account and the other would be for the loan fund. All agreed that this was the best way to handle the funds.

Steve said that the MMDC has approximately 45,000 dollars in its account right now and has a few charges against it.

Steve said that out of these funds, approximately 25,000 dollars could be used as operating dollars and 20,000 dollars for the loan fund.

Don said that we need to structure the loan fund as soon as possible. There needs to be some decisions made concerning the size of the loans, whether they will be incremental or if multiple amounts of money can be borrowed at the same time.

Luis brought up the point that at times an individual may underestimate the amount of money he/she needs and may require additional capital before the loan has been repaid.

Don said these issues should be addressed by a Loan Committee. He said that microloans are difficult and need to be carefully structured.

Steve said that the loan fund should be helpful and not restrictive.

Don said he would like to be on the Loan Committee. He said there are eight things that make a loan fund work and there are tricks to low default rates. He cited the success of the Working Capital Program with a 98% payback rate.

Grace said that The MHRA has had a similar experience with a 0% Interest Rehabilitation Loan Program. There has only been one default to date.

Don stated that design is important.

Pat agreed that we should set up a Microloan Committee. All decided that Don would be Chairman and Luis and Ginny would also serve. Mary Ellen will be contacted to see if she wants to participate.

Shelley said she would coordinate the Loan meetings. The first one was scheduled for December 22nd at 10:00.

Don Mason asked where the funding was coming from. Grace told him it was from a Public Housing Drug Elimination Grant.
Don asked whether the fund would be restricted to Public Housing residents only. Grace said that because funds come from a federal grant only Public Housing and Section 8 residents are eligible.

There was some discussion about the 501 (c)(3) application. Shelley and Steve explained that the Application is being reviewed by an accountant.

Don said that he would like to review the application. He said the language that is used in the application is critical. He said that 501 c 3 applications are being carefully scrutinized so we cannot afford any mistakes.

The meeting came to a close at about 11:10 with our next meeting scheduled for Thursday, January 21st at 10:00AM. Pat Ryan suggested that we try to meet on the third Thursday of every month.

RE: MMDC Board Issues

Attached are the revised Bylaws for the MMDC. I made the revisions that you suggested. I attached a copy of Pat Ryan’s draft so that you can review.

I revised the minutes from the meeting of December 17, 1992. Please review this as well. I will bring copies to the Board meeting next Thursday.

I prepared a rough draft of the Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation. I think it would be appropriate that we vote on this and the Bylaws on Thursday.

Will you be able to locate some sort of recording device for next week’s meeting? It would be very helpful.

I am meeting with Steve Dorr and Gary Boisvert on Tuesday, January 19 to discuss where we are at with regard to the 501 (c) (3) application. I will advise you on the status of that if you are unable to attend the meeting.

I have a call in to Pat Ryan to discuss the Agenda for the January 21st meeting. Please advise if there is any new business to be discussed.

_____ I like people. I can get along with just about anybody.
_____ I have plenty of friends. I don't need anybody else.
_____ Most people bug me.

_____ I can't see that hard work gets you anywhere.
Can you make decisions?

_____ I can make up my mind in a hurry if I have to. It usually turns out okay, too.

Start a Home Business FOR UNDER $500

Your blueprint for success by Robin Warshaw

Working for yourself is no longer just a dream for millions of American women. Today, female-owned businesses are springing up in record numbers. It's estimated that by the year 2000, at least half the small businesses in the United States will be owned by women.

That's no small achievement. Many of these women also juggle household and child-care responsibilities. And when women launch businesses of their own they often have less capital than men making the same move. Moreover, many lenders are still hesitant to finance women in business.

Each year, however, thousands of women battle the odds, setting out with $500 or less in start-up money. Some who've succeeded tell how they did it.

MOBILE HAIRDRESSER

START-UP COSTS: $311
secondhand hair dryer and other equipment: $155 towels: $36
hair-care supplies: $120

Yvonne V. Conway, of Olympia, Washington, hadn't cut, dyed or curled anyone's hair for 15 years when she decided to return to salon work. She went

SPECIALTY CAKES

START-UP COSTS: $267
plates, baking equipment: $225 ingredients: $30
business cards: $12

Caution: Do not read this if you can't pass a dessert table without stopping. For who can resist a deep chocolate cake with raspberry icing, fresh raspberries on top and French chocolate pressed onto the sides? How about hazelnut praline cones filled with mocha butter cream?

Laura Silcox became interested in baking as a child when she made cakes with her grandmother. She later took pastry classes at a restaurant school, then apprenticed with a baker. But practical experience in her kitchen at home in Cherry Hill, New Jersey, has taught her the most. "You learn as you go," she says.

Laura considers her business almost a calling. "If I didn't bake, I'd be unhappy," she says. Her elaborate wedding cakes run $3 to $10 per serving, while 16-inch birthday and anniversary cakes go for $50. She also makes up dessert trays with individual pastries, such as fruit tarts, elephant ears and jam-filled sponge cake (at 50¢ to $3 for each piece).

Laura uses photographs of previous cakes to help clients decide what they want. She relies on about 200 cookbooks for ideas and inspiration. As her business expands, she upgrades her equipment. Her next major purchase will be a 22-quart bakery mixer (it costs about $1,000).

It's hard to believe Laura can resist her own creations, but she does. "I used to love the chocolate and apricot cake," she says, "but I've made it so often I just taste for flavoring now."
back to beauty school for three months to catch up, but when she landed a job, she found many customers considered her "too old" (she was in her fifties). So Yvonne decides to take her skills on the road, bringing beauty services to those who couldn’t get to salons.

“I come to your home, office or jail,” Yvonne says with a laugh. Many of her customers are housebound by frailty, illness or the needs of an ailing spouse. Although she expected most of her clients to be confined to nursing homes, she spends far more time in private houses. Yvonne charges about $12 for a shampoo, set and style. She also offers permanents (from $50), manicures ($10) and pedicures ($15).

When she started, Yvonne advertised in a local newspaper for senior citizens and spread her business cards around. Although she also serves young families (she cuts Mom, Dad and the children all at one sitting), her services to the elderly give her—and her clients—the greatest reward. “It makes my customers feel good,” she says.

To help others who want to start a hairdressing-on-wheels business, Yvonne has published a book that sells for $19.95. The advice ranges from how to pack supplies in a car trunk to how to cut the hair of a person lying down. Her first rule: “You must be a professional. I do not give home perms. I give professional perms in the home.”

ROMANCE WRITER
START-UP COSTS: $50

For paper, notebooks, postage, April Khilstrom wears no-nonsense glasses, comfortable clothes, a simple hairstyle and no makeup, but despite her appearance and her master’s degree in mathematical operations research, her business is writing romance novels—and it has not made her rich.

"Obviously, I don't fit the image of a romance writer," she says and adds, “I never planned to become a writer.” But when her son was born with Down Syndrome 14 years ago, she decided to stay home and give him as much help as she could in developing his potential.

As relief from the strain of raising a child with special needs, April began to write, in longhand. When she finished her first book, she wrote to a publishing house, asking if they’d like to see it. They did—and they bought two other modern romances from her as well.

“The more I wrote, the less attractive operations research seemed,” April says. Soon she switched to writing books set in the early nineteenth century. April now creates her 70,000-word manuscripts on a computer at home in Cherry Hill, New Jersey. She keeps shelves full of reference books to help with research. “I hear from readers if I get any of the historical details wrong,” she says.

Today, April's books are a staple in the Signet Regency Romance line. She receives about $5,000 in advance for each book (she writes two a year), plus royalties (a percentage of sales) above a certain minimum. She earns additional income when her books are sold to foreign publishers (her work has appeared in German, Italian and Swedish). Her latest novel, A Dangerous Masquerade, is due out in the spring.

PARTY DECOR AND INVITATIONS
START-UP COSTS: $500 EACH

3 sample albums: $400
business cards, checkbooks, stationery: $175 centerpiece materials: $150 advertising: $250

Ann Elbaum and Elyse Davis met at a tea for newcomers in Ridgefield, Connecticut. Both were looking to start a business, and as they talked, an idea took shape: Why not combine their skills into a complete party planning service offering everything from invitations to custom decorations? As Ann says, “No one in town was doing this.”

The pair formed You’re Invited and purchased three sample albums from invitation printers. Now, with about 40 books of samples, they offer customized colors and type styles. “We can get people what they’re looking for on a budget,” says Elyse.

The partners make decorations to fit party themes as varied as sports, space travel and the 1950s. Coordinating the major events in customers’ lives (weddings, baby showers, bar mitzvahs) can be stressful. At one gala for 120 guests, they arranged for the disc jockey, the caterer, the tent, even the portable toilets. And when a stray dog wandered in, drawn by the aroma of steak, Elyse and Ann lured the animal away without the guests realizing it.

You’re Invited coordinates about 50 parties a year. Fees range from $50 to $125 per table. They receive 200 orders yearly for invitations, which they discount 20 percent and still make a 25 percent profit. Coming up with new ideas is a continuing challenge. Says Elyse, “Each party looks different. You have to change—especially in a small community.”

BEADED JEWELRY
START-UP COSTS: $500
($250 each)

beading materials: $425
invitations to first show: $75

Marjie Lazarus and Cece Stern were searching for a business that required only a minimal investment of money and time when Marjie received two beaded bracelets as a gift. The friends realized they could create jewelry that was just as lovely.

They went to a gift industry trade show and bought 20 different kinds of beads for their first designs: “We paid top dollar,” Marjie admits, “but we learned.” In just three months, they had 50 bracelets and six necklaces ready to show at Marjie’s home in Springfield, Illinois. They sold everything and took orders, too. Their business, the Beadery, was launched.

The partners soon switched to silk string and began creating more intricate designs using amethysts, garnets, coral, black onyx, cultured pearls and colorful African beads. They sell their jewelry at crafts and fine arts shows and at several shops in the area. Shoppers can also come to Marjie’s house by appointment. Their basement workshop is open only one day a week during November and December, which are their busiest months.

Jewelry is often made-to-order for bridal parties or to go with special clothing customers bring in. Bracelets sell for $15 to $65; earrings are $8 to $20; necklaces, $50 to $80 (and up to $500). The partners call themselves the elves as they huddle at their magnifying lights, stringing beads for the 500 bracelets they need for the holiday season. They credit their 30-year friendship for their success. “It would be very nice to do it ourselves,” Cece says. And Marjie adds firmly, “I wouldn’t do it alone.”
TIPS FOR SUCCESSFUL PARTNERSHIPS

A partner can cut your start-up costs in half, share the work load, and listen sympathetically to your problems. Each partner also contributes different skills and expertise. In their party-planning business, Ann Elbaum provides artistic design while her partner, Elyse Davis, excels at administration and coordination.

Partnerships also mean splitting the profits (usually 50-50) and can lead to headaches if one of you decides to quit. It helps to have a lawyer draw up an agreement outlining who owns what, how taxes will be handled and how the partnership can be dissolved.

Working together can strain a friendship, even a family bond. "Fortunately, we have a great relationship," says Kim Carbene about her partnership with her mother, Joyce. "We give each other a lot of space," she says.

Many women say choosing the right partner was their most important business decision. Their advice:

- Spend time together discussing your ideas and hopes for the business. Write down your goals and compare them.
- Be sure to determine in advance how much time and money each can devote to the business.
- Agree on how bookkeeping will be handled and who will decide how earnings should be spent.

In the end, Elyse Davis says, "You must like the person. After all, you'll probably spend more waking hours with her than with your husband."

HOW TO CUT YOUR START-UP COSTS

- Shop smart. Buy used office equipment, thrift-store furniture and shelving, wholesale supplies. Consider renting costly machinery, like computers, until you're established. Renting also gives you the chance to make sure the computer you're considering is right for your needs.

- Hire responsible kids to distribute handbills about your business. Make signs for community bulletin boards with your business name and telephone number on easy-to-tear-off strips.

- Talk about your venture. Word-of-mouth is the best (and least expensive) way to advertise.

- Invest in an answering machine or service. Ask your phone company about a low-cost service to take messages while you're out or using the line. Remember: nothing hurts a business—especially a new one—more than an unanswered call from a potential customer.

- Send a press release about your business to local newspapers, especially weeklies. Many will respond by writing a feature article about you and your enterprise.

DANCE INSTRUCTION

Sara Brodsky fell in love with ballroom dancing after attending her first class on a whim. Four years later, she left a public-relations job she disliked and began teaching at dance schools.

Today, Sara runs her own classes at studios around Boston. Calling her business Put Your Best Foot Forward, she teaches ballroom, swing and country-and-western dancing. Students of all ages learn to waltz, fox trot, tango, rumba, cha-cha, mambo, merengue and polka, among other dances.

Students don't need a partner to enroll. "We constantly change partners because it makes you a better dancer," says Sara. "That way, you don't get into bad habits with the same partner." She stresses the importance of having fun while dancing: "We laugh at ourselves all the time," she adds.

When she started out, Sara had only six students in an average class; today, she has up to 50 paying $65 each for an eight-week session (one hour per week). Private lessons are $45 per hour for a couple. She relies on her p.r. skills to drum up business. For example, she offers a $5 discount to those who pre-register by mail. She also advertises in local magazines and holds a free end-of-the-term dance for all students and their friends.
