*S*tudent Life

Each year there are over 200 annual events that occur for the SNHU student body to participate in. All events are open to the entire student body and are available on a first come, first serve basis. Highlights of the year included the following: Fall Carnival, Trip to the Ice Hotel in Canada, International Night, Third Eye Blind Concert, Alternative Spring Breaks, and Midnight Madness to name a few.

Ambassadors

The Student Ambassadors represent the University and the President's Office at institutional functions on and off campus. The Ambassadors are committed to those activities which strengthen and enhance the development of SNHU.

Some of their goals include promoting the University, its interest and goals; to develop meaningful communications among students, faculty, staff and alumni, representing SNHU at private and public events related to the university, and identifying and cultivating leadership for future university needs, class activities and voluntary support programs.

Campus Ministry

The purpose of the Campus Ministry Student Association is to house Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish students under one unified organization. Through this organization we will support each other and work towards enhancing the community of faith at SNHU in coordination with the Campus Ministry Office.

Debate Club

The Debate Club at Southern New Hampshire University provides an opportunity for students to engage in intellectual discussion on issues in our local and global society. Students learn and practice the art of public debate and exchange thoughts and arguments with their peers and professors.

Creative Writing

The purpose of the Creative Writing Club is to have a network of students who are interested in writing to share their original work among other young writers. The club holds monthly meetings in a social setting where students read their short stories or poetry out loud in front of an open mic. Students are encouraged, but not required, to share their work as well.

Democrats

The two main goals of College Democrats Club is to create a network of SNHU students who support the Democratic party and to spread knowledge of the party's ideals to the student community. Members are encouraged to contribute their time and support toward campaigns of their choice, and as we move forward this election year, toward the eventual Democratic nominee.

Dance

The SNHU Dance Club focuses on hip-hop and jazz routines, and currently has about 40 members. The club has some members that have danced all their lives, while other members have never danced before.

Drama

The purpose of the Drama Club is to provide plays for the SNHU student body, faculty, and the greater Manchester area. The Drama Club will also provide students with different events and creative activities pertaining to the concept of drama throughout the academic year. In the Spring of 2007 the Drama Club was honored to receive the "Club of the Year" award.

Economics & Finance

The goal of the EFA is to create opportunities for academic and personal growth outside the classroom. Some of the events that we sponsor include local field trips to the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, the Anheuser-Busch plant in Merrimack, and Fidelity Investments. EFA also sponsors the three-day spring trip to NYC to see the Federal Reserve and the NYSE.

The Observer

The Observer prints an issue once a month between September and April, totaling 6 to 8 issues each school year. The content of our paper consists of articles about current SNHU news and events, including clubs, sports and student government. We also feature student's opinion articles, creative pieces, and photos. The purpose of our paper is to accurately inform the SNHU community, as well as provide them entertaining and enjoyable reading material.

Kappa Delta Phi

Kappa Delta Phi is a National Fraternity with chapters concentrated within New England. The National Fraternity was founded in 1900 and Chi Chapter was founded in 1968. Chi Chapter has been an active part of the institution for over 30 years. The brothers at SNHU proudly uphold the fraternal ideals of kinship, duty, and philanthropy.

Outreach

The Outreach Association is a group who's purpose is to involve the SNHU community in enriching the lives of the less fortunate both on and off campus. To accomplish this we work in conjunction with such organizations as Camp Sunshine, Meals on Wheels, Toys for Tots, Habitat for Humanity, soup kitchens, animal shelters, and other local organizations.

Kappa Chi

Kappa Delta Phi, National Affiliated Sorority, Kappa Chi Chapter is proud to be the only nationally recognized sorority at SNHU. Kappa Chi began as Beta Gamma Phi. The mission of Kappa Delta Phi National Affiliated Sorority (NAS) is to encourage higher education ideals and practices in our institutions, to promote a spirit of good citizenship, individual character and fellowship; and to oppose discrimination, in order to strengthen and preserve the bonds of sisterhood.

Phi Delta Beta

Phi Delta Beta Sorority is a local sorority committed to supporting our sisters and forming everlasting friendships not only with each other but with our advisor. As a sorority we stress campus involvement, leadership, and academic excellence.

Model UN

Students not only learn about the inner and outer workings of the United Nations, but will participate in a week long conference, which utilize mock situations. From a student's point of view, they learn many skills such as public speaking, negotiation skills, and writing solutions to problems. They will also learn the viewpoints of nations other than the United States on any given topic that is being discussed.

Phi Delta Theta

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity is considered one of the top ten fraternities in the country. Our chapter here is the 189th chapter, founded in 1983. Our organization is the largest and only International Fraternity on the SNHU campus. We pride ourself on three basic principles: friendship, sound learning, and moral rectitude. The unity among our brothers creates friendships that last a lifetime.

Phi Omega Psi

The Sisters of Phi Omega Psi have been on this campus since 1971. We take pride being the oldest and currently the largest sorority on campus. Each year we volunteer hundreds of hours towards community service and to raise money for all kinds of charities.

Psychology

The purpose of this organization is to aid in the personal growth of the individual and to present new opportunities within the field of Psychology. We value the role of individual concerns and opinions to better the organization, to encourage future study and interest in the field of Social Science at SNHU.

We establish relations with the SNHU and the outside community by volunteering our time to help those in need.

Radio SNHU

RadioSNHU is Southern New Hampshire University's on-campus, student-run radio station. As only the second college radio station in the nation to broadcast via the internet, RadioSNHU is primarily a web-based, web-cast station. RadioSNHU has a variety of programming ranging from rap to rock, sports, talk and variety shows.

SIFE

SIFE is an international organization that mobilizes university students around the world to make a difference in their communities while developing the skills to become socially responsible business leaders.

Sport Management

The purpose of this organization is to experience and learn first hand the different aspects of the Sport Management field. It will help to broaden the educational experience of the student members and provide many opportunities to meet people and establish contacts for potential internships and/or future jobs. These opportunities may include field trips, tours, lectures, activities, and fund-raisers.

SNHU Chorus

The SNHU Chorus was re-established two years ago under the direction of Director Christopher Hossfeld. The chorus is made up of students and faculty who meet once a week to practice songs. Students have the option of earning credit for their involvement. The chorus puts on at least two concerts a semester.

Student Government Association

The SGA represents all full-time undergraduate and graduate Southern New Hampshire University students. The Association is made up of the Senate, House of Representatives and the Executive Board. As the main voice for the student body at SNHU, the Student Government Association (SGA) maintains an open line of communication between the administration, faculty and students. The SGA encourages student input regarding university policies, facilities and events. Throughout the year the SGA actively participates and has voting power on university standing committees to ensure that student needs are addressed.

To the right, the SGA Executive Board poses in front of a variety of political monuments in Washington DC.

The Senate participates in a variety of team building and problem solving activities.

CAPE.

Coordinators of Activities and Programming Events

The Coordinators of Activities and Programming Events (CAPE) is a student-run organization committed to enriching campus life at Southern New Hampshire University. By working with other clubs, organizations, and departments CAPE provides social, recreational, educational, and cultural programming to the campus community.

To the left, the 2007-2008 CAPE Executive Board.

I.G.C.

Inter-Greek Council

The Inter-Greek Council is dedicated to, promoting the interests of fraternalism at Southern New Hampshire University, foster fraternal cooperation with the college and community, foster cooperation among the fraternities and sororities on this campus, discuss questions of mutual interests, to supervise fraternal conduct, and to make such necessary rules and regulations as the council sees fit.

Below, Samantha Beaugrand deals at a Casino Night in the Pub.

Each semester, IGC holds a Greek Rush week with many great events.

Greek Week

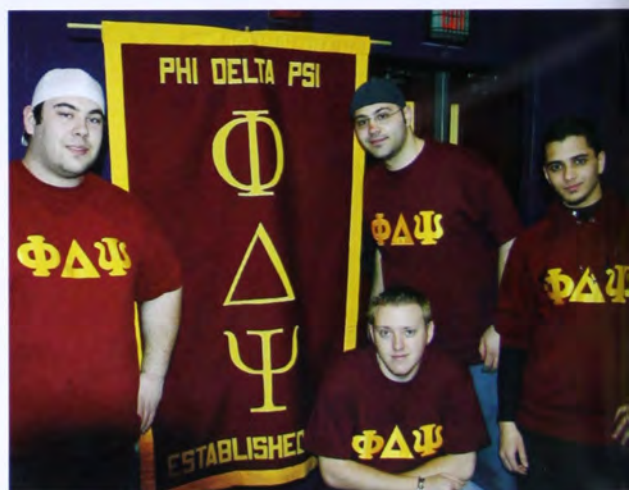

The Greek societies at SNHU and all over North America since their modern inception in 1776 are committed such high-minded ideals as brotherhood/sisterhood, academic scholarship, the development of proper leadership, success, and service to the community.

A Greek Week is held each semester involving games and other activities to promote positive relationships and competition between the multiple organizations.

Club Days

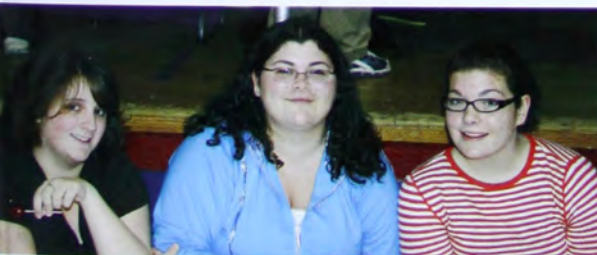

Club Days are hosted at the start of each semester by the Campus Programming and Leadership Office.

Club Days

The purpose of these events is to give each organization an opportunity to recruit new members & showcase the benefits of getting involved.

Fall Week

The Coordinators of Activities and Programming Events (C.A.P.E) is responsible for themed weeks throughout the year.

This year, the theme of Fall Week was "SNHU TV" playing off of an MTV theme.

A Carnival highlighted Fall Week with a variety of rides, games, food, and novelty events.

Students got a chance to attend this on-campus carnival free of charge on a beautiful fall day.

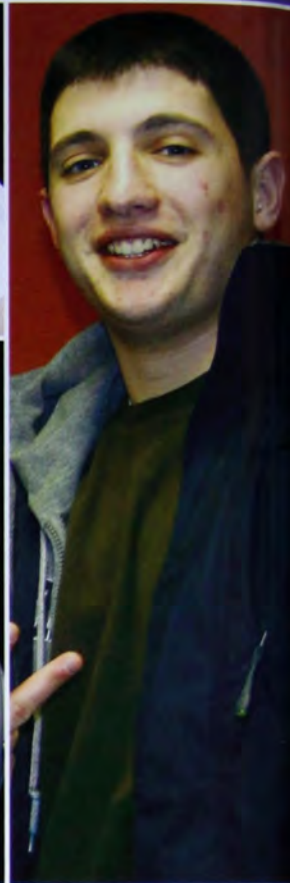

Other events throughout the week included "Dance Dance Revolution," MTV Real World cast speakers, and much more.

Winter Week

This winter, CAPE hosted events during Winter Week with the theme of "Life's a Beach."

The week consisted of a variety of events to warm up the students and help them relax.

Throughout the week students enjoyed a variety of novelty events, relaxation chances, and summer fun.

A Caribbean themed band headlined dinner one night with fun tunes to liven up the cold weather.

Amanda Robbins enjoys an oxygen bar with various "flavors" of oxygen, a student favorite!

Spring Week

This spring C.A.P.E. sponsored the "Livin' Life in the Fast Lane" week with an artificial ice rink, novelty key chains, and a day consisting of an outdoor concert, inflatable activities and food.

One student, among many, attempts to ride the mechanical bull on the East Side at SNHU Stock.

A student shows off her ice skating moves on the artificial ice rink outside of the Hospitality building.

Midnight Madness

For the University's 75th Anniversary, the SNHU Penmen welcomed back the beloved tradition of Midnight Madness

Each team participated in a variety of contests to pass the time as the clock neared the midnight celebration.

Hundreds of students came to the Fieldhouse to support and cheer on Penmen Basketball on the eve of their season.

The Penmen Pride blue and gold shirts were well represented at the evening's activities.

John McCain

U. S. Senator John McCain, R-Arizona, visited campus last December to talk about his presidential bid and answer questions from students (and web participants).

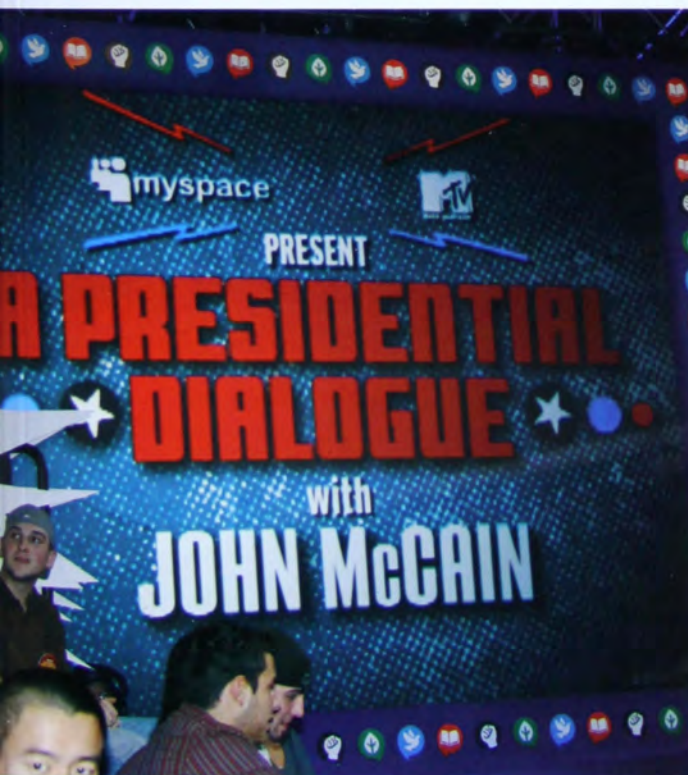

The event was part of the MTV-Myspace "Choose or Lose" Presidential Dialogue Series. The event drew over 250 SNHU students.

Two SNHU students pose by the MTV Choose or Lose sign.

Relay For Life

On February 29th, 2008 into the morning of March 1st, 2008, SNHU students participated in the first university-sponsored Relay for Life. Relay for Life is a fundraiser that focuses on celebrating those who have battled cancer, remembering those lost and inspiring others to fight back. Those who have shared the same experience find common ground, hope and healing at Relay.

One of many students playing football under the tent in the middle of the track.

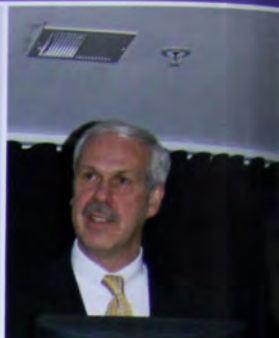

Two participating students pose with their Relay For Life shirts.

Laura Plaisted walks the track during the Relay for Life event.

Lectures

Throughout the year, a variety of clubs, organizations, and departments sponsor many different lecturers and speakers to come to campus and discuss different topics. Featured here are Aqeela Sherrills who spoke about the west coast gang wars as well as the Metis Clan of North America.

Service Trips

Over the course of the year, the Center for Service and Citizenship sponsors a variety of trips where students engage in active learning through service.

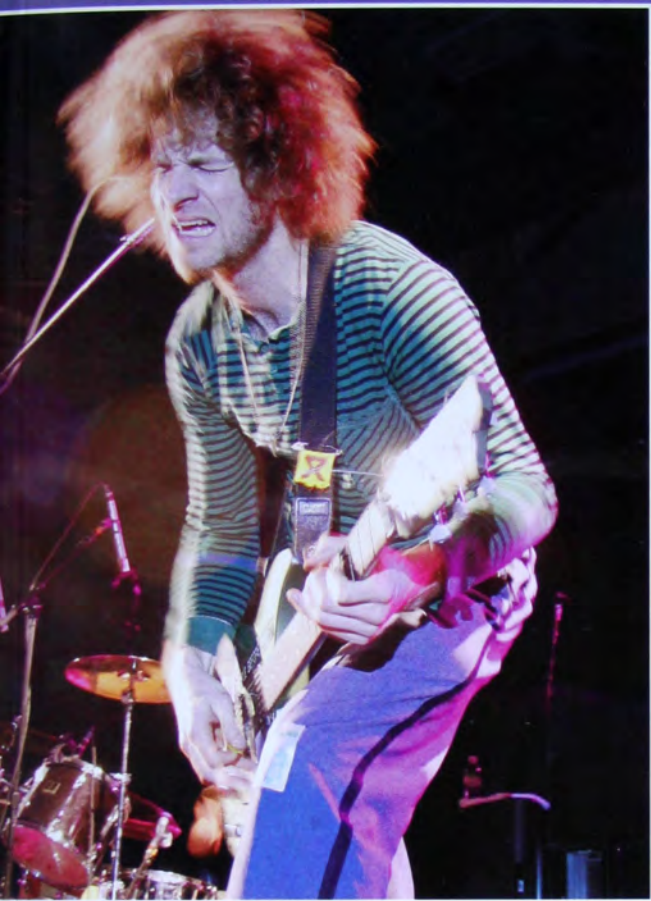

Over the summer, students got the opportunity to teach South African citizens how to use computers in their native country. Other trips include Virginia and an Orphanage volunteer program in the Dominican Republic.

Third Eye Blind

This year's sold out Major Concert featured the student chosen band, Third Eye Blind. This concert was co-headlined with local Boston band, State Radio, and supported with opening band, Absentstar.

SNHU students volunteered their time to set up and break down equipment for the show.

Absentstar's lead singer begins the concert before an anticipating audience.

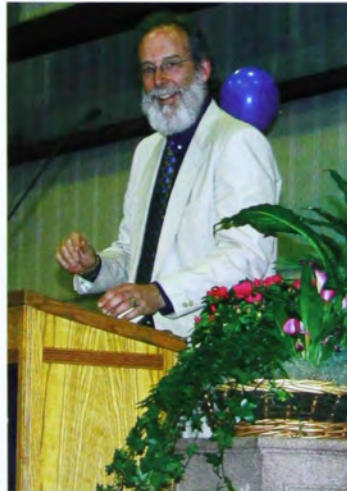

Chad Ardizzonni helps set up the stage for the 2008 Major Concert

Leadership Banquet

This year's Leadership Banquet was held in the Fieldhouse.

All student leaders were invited to attend a banquet style dinner, award ceremony, and an evening of dancing.

Hallie Kay proudly poses for a photo as she displays her recent award.

Michael Rizzi walks back to his seat after receiving an award.

Vice President of Student Affairs, Scott Kalicki, offers some words of wisdom to the student leaders of SNHU.

*T*he rich tradition of athletics has long been the source of pride for the family and friends of Southern New Hampshire University. Since the glory days of the Greater Boston Small College Conference, to the present status as a NCAA Division II power, the Penmen have maintained a level of excellence that is second to none.

Volleyball

The women's volleyball team narrowly missed its second-ever trip to the Northeast-10 Tournament after a late season push that saw the Penmen win three of their final five matches. Capping off the season was an impressive win over Merrimack, a team that reached the NE-10 final and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Freshman Stephanie Dluginski quickly made a name for herself, as she was one of just four freshmen named Northeast-10 All-Conference. She led the Penmen in kills (200) and blocks (100) while ranking third in the league in hitting percentage (.289). Briana Doucet and newcomer Casey Stoodley had 184 and 178 kills respectively, while Kelly Scanlon handed out a team-best 472 assists.

The men's soccer team reached the Northeast-10 Conference Tournament for the eighth straight season, but was eliminated by eventual national champion Franklin Pierce 3-1 in the quarterfinals.

Senior Matt Delaney was a Second Team NSCAA All-New England selection for the second straight season and also garnered First Team All NE-10 accolades. Sophomore defender Richard Kentish was a Second Team All NE-10 selection after starting 21 games but one game in the backfield for the Penmen in his first season. Delaney was the team's leading scorer with five goals, followed by classmates Gabe Mercier (2-3-7) and Simon Kearney (2-2-6). Sean Dan Pelc started 15 games in goal and moved into a tie for second place on SNHU's all-time shutout list with 21.

The women's soccer team made a late season playoff push, going 3-0-1 over the final four matches, but narrowly missed a return to the Northeast-10 Tournament despite a 6-8 conference record. The Penmen boasted a victory over nationally-ranked Saint Leo in the season opener.

Senior Laurie Boland finished with six goals and six assists for 18 points and was named Northeast-10 All-Conference for the second time in her career. Junior Cary Rivett collected All-Conference honors for the first time in her career. Senior Lori Robinson had three goals and three assists for nine points, including a pair of goals in her final college game against AIC, while Nicole Ebner finished with three goals and an assist. Stef Young started every game in goal and posted five shutouts.

The men's cross country team competed seven times in the fall. The Penmen finished third in the season-opening Castleton State College invitational and placed ninth out of 20 schools at the Gordon College Pop Crowell Invitational.

Junior Alex Brown had one of the finest seasons in the program history. On two separate occasions Brown established a school record time, finishing Northeast-10 Championship 8-kilometer course in a time of 27:31. Brown ran five of the top 20 times in school history this season and finished 46th at the NCAA Regional. Classmate Nick Watts posted four of the top 20 times in program history including a season-best 28-minute effort at the NE-10 race.

The SNHU women's cross country team competed seven times in 2007. The Penmen opened the season with a third-place finish at the Castleton State College Invitational and finished 13th out of 22 teams at the Gordon College Pop Crowell Invitational.

Junior Svea Dellea-Messner was SNHU's top runner in six of seven races, posting three sub-22 minute efforts, including a season-best 21:46 mark at the Northeast-10 Championship. Dellea-Messner finished 60th out of 128 runners at the NCAA Northeast Regional Championship. Freshman Melissa Hurley posted a seventh-place finish at the Castleton meet and her season-best 21:24 at the Pop Crowell Invitational. Senior Margaret Shields was the top Penmen finisher at the Pop Crowell, recording a collegiate-best time of 21:35.

Hockey

The hockey team got off to a fast start, going unbeaten in its first four games and owning a 8-2-1 record in early January. The Penmen finished third in the Northeast-10 and advanced to the league semifinals for the fifth straight season before falling in a shoot-out to Saint Anselm.

Senior Brandon Hammermeister garnered NE-10 All-

Conference honors for the fourth straight year and was a First Team selection for the second time as he led the Penmen in scoring. He finished his career ranked in the top 10 in career points, goals and assists. Nine of the top 11 scorers were underclassmen led by sophomore John Freese with 29 points and freshman Troy Maybury's 23 points.

Men's Basketball

The men's basketball team returned to the postseason after a one-year absence, earning a berth into the Northeast-10 tournament, where it fell to eventual NCAA Tournament participant Bryant. The Penmen claimed wins over Bryant and Merrimack, another NCAA Tournament team, and took regional finalist Assumption to the wire twice.

Senior Sam Carey garnered

Northeast-10 Second Team honors as he led the Penmen in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage. He was also named NE-10 Player of the Week three times. Newcomers Gerald Carter and Troy Bowen averaged 12.5 and 12.4 ppg, respectively, while freshmen Chase Miller and Cory Vejraska were both mainstays in the starting lineup.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team enjoyed one of its finest seasons in recent history, winning 13 games, the most since 1991, and earning the program's second-ever berth into the Northeast-10 Tournament. The Penmen defeated defending national champion Southern Connecticut and also defeated NCAA Tournament participants Bryant and Assumption.

Senior Sara Tucker wrapped up her career ranked in the program's top-10 for career rebounding and top 20 in career scoring while averaging 10.1 ppg. Sophomore Julia Houghtaling established herself as one of the top low-post threats in the conference, leading SNHU in scoring and rebounding. Junior Megan Shay was named to the NE-10 All-Academic Team for the second straight season.

Baseball

The baseball team suffered some growing pains in 2008, as the roster had just a pair of seniors and 16 underclassmen. The Penmen did post a double-header sweep of Saint Anselm and also posted a pair of victories on its spring trip to Florida. Senior Ryan Thompson finished his career with 151 hits, good for sixth in program history, and was selected to the New Hampshire Series All-Star Team that played an exhibition game against the Nashua Pride. Junior Greg Lyons registered his 100th career strikeout and led the staff with 42 this season, while Bill Murray led SNHU with a .305 batting average.

Softball

The softball team remained in the hunt for a Northeast-10 playoff spot until the final day of the regular season but falling just shy with a split at Assumption. Juniors Karissa Bettencourt and Ashley Bernstein both recorded their 100th career hit during the season. Bettencourt earned NE-10 All-Conference honors by batting .323 with a pair of home runs as she was the only Penmen player to start all 39 games. Bernstein led the team in home runs (8) and runs batted in (22). Andrea Clausi led SNHU with a .330 batting average and belted six home runs while driving in 21 runs.

Men's Tennis

The men's tennis team qualified for the Northeast-10 Tournament for the fifth straight season, earning the No. 7 seed overall. The Penmen were led by sophomore newcomer David Spaggiari and junior Luis Ramirez. Spaggiari, playing in the No. 1 singles spot, posted a 6-4 record during the regular season, while Ramirez notched a 6-4 record at N 2 doubles. The pair also teamed up for a 5-4 double mark. Among the season highlights were starting the season 2-0 and a midseason 5-4 win over crosstown rival Saint Anselm.

Women's Tennis

The women's tennis team reached new heights in 2007-08, reaching the semifinals of the Northeast-10 Tournament for the first time in program history. Entering the tourney as the No. 6 seed, the Penmen upset third-seeded Bentley before being edged by Saint Michael's 5-4 in the semifinal round. The senior doubles tandem of Amanda Nason and Melissa Ramos posted a perfect 13-0 record on the season and were Northeast-10 First Team All-Conference. Ramos and Catalina Echeverry were All-Conference selections as singles players, while the doubles team of Echeverry and Lauren Nigrelli also earned Northeast-10 accolades.

Men's Lacrosse

The men's lacrosse team got off to a 5-2 start following an early-season five-game winning streak and earned votes in the national Division II poll for two weeks. The Penmen posted a win over nationally-ranked Molloy and suffered four losses by three or fewer goals, including a 9-8 setback to nationally-ranked Merrimack. Mike Ball led Division II in goals per game, registering 55 in 12 games, and was a Northeast-10 First Team selection. Senior John Delanoy was a Second Team All-Conference selection and was just the second player in program history to be selected to the prestigious Division North-South Game.

Women's Lacrosse

The women's lacrosse team reached new heights in 2008, winning a school-record 12 games and reaching the Northeast-10 championship game for the first time in school history. The Penmen finished second in the NE-10 with a 9-1 league record and won eight of their final 10 games, with the two setbacks coming to Stonehill. Junior Julie Kraus became the first All-American in program history after leading SNHU in ground balls, caused turnovers and draw controls and being named the NE-10 Defensive Player of the Year. Libby Parent was an All-Region and First Team All NE-10 selection, while Carole Lee and Katie Clark earned Second Team accolades.
