LETTER EXCHANGE (VERBATIM)

BLACK OR WHITE

Dear Mr. M. Dunn

Are people prejudice?

Comment: We all have some aspects of prejudice and bias ideas. It is part of mans character. But some stress prejudice ideas to the point that confusion, and choas, social pressure... comes into being. It is up to you and I Black or White to try to break this barrier and bring our forces together into unity. If done prejudice will be a myth not a reality.

SMOKING OR NO SMOKING

Cigarette Smoking: Reaction of Non-Smokers
Because many smokers smoke in theaters, offices, restaurants, on planes and trains - often without regard for "No Smoking" signs - many airlines and railroads are now reserving more space for non-smoking travelers. (Penn Central reports empty seats in smoking cars and standees in no-smoking cars during commuter rush hours.) Smoking is prohibited in both houses of Congress, in the Supreme Court and most federal courts, federal museums and libraries. Some states have started enforcing old fire-prevention laws forbidding smoking in theaters, courtrooms, buses, libraries and hospitals. Two states, Utah and Arizona, have already taken action to ban smoking in public places. In fact, some restaurants in Arizona have set up non-smoking sections; they have had positive feedback on this action. Numerous privately owned enterprises and non-governmental agencies are now posting no-smoking signs.

Non-smokers can effect the status quo in restaurants, planes, sporting arenas and such, by demanding a non-smoking area as well as demanding enforcement of rules in theaters, etc., where the rules are being neglected. For example, one jurist, when told that the no-smoking rule would be relaxed because of the lateness of the lawyers, stood up and objected. Stating that she was there because the law required her to be and she didn't want to be made miserable in the process, she got a big hand from her fellow jurists. No one lit up.

Perhaps one delegate to the United Nations World Health Organization has stated the position of non-smokers best by saying: "Smoking should be confined to consenting adults in private." Brian D. Gorden

Chairman, Smoking Committee
