a kangaroo skin over her shoulders, spits in her face several times, marks her with painted stripes of different colors, and orders her to carry his provision bag to his hut. If she doesn't go fast enough, he gives her a few kicks on the way.

The idea of a woman proposing during leap year is handed down from the ancient Greeks. Jupiter is supposed to have given Venus the authority to reign over the opposite sex once in four years. (During the Venus Festival in February.)

In a group of islands north of Australia, the natives believe that the earth is married to the sun. The sun is considered the husband in the match.

Did You Know

That when Tibetans meet, they greet each other by sticking out their tongues.

That when you tip a Jap you're supposed to give him the dough in an envelope. (You offend him if you hand the money to him openly!)

That in Turkestan, visitors are given three days in which to get married or get out. (It's a crime to be a bachelor there.)

That women tip their hats to the men in Ecuador.

That in Japan, crickets are used as watchdogs. (They stop chirping if a stranger enters the house at night.)

That the only way a guy can become a cop in Peru is to be born one. (The job is handed down from father to son.)

That pedestrians in Mexico City now have to walk in line and put out their hand when they turn a corner.

That all snakes are deaf. (When they sway to music, it's because they feel the vibrations.)

That seventy per cent of the wealth in the U. S. is either controlled or owned by women. (Sure—they let us pay for everything!)

FLASH

When is M. T. going to take L.W. and A. M. for a ride in her new car, as she promised them? The boys hope that you make it soon.

Did you know that T. S. and A.M. stay after school every afternoon. What's the idea, boys--something important occupy you during the evenings so that you have to study afternoons.

New Romantic Pair--"E. J." and B. W.

We have a Professor Quiz among our students, namely, John Doyle. If you ever meet up with him, he pops off quiz questions, brain teasers, brain twisters, or what have you, and puts you on the spot.

For the past few weeks, John Murphy has taken a shower everyday right in school between periods.
