NEW PERSONNEL

Ever hear of the Pandora Yarn? New Hampshire College has been home for nearly a month for that Pandora publication's former feature editor and sports writer--Mrs. Anne Baumeister.

Anne is now helping Mr. William O. Beane to organize the confusion the rest of us create for them in the Media Center, and both deserve our thanks for all they accomplish daily in spite of us!

Anne lives in Manchester and has two active teenagers attending Manchester Central. In her spare time she has won a few ribbons at Manchester Artists Association exhibitions--her forte lies in the area of oil paintings and charcoal portraits, in case you want to help discover an artist.

Mrs. Gray Fitch joined the Business Office staff on January 15, 1973--just in time to help with the second semester stampede in that vicinity! Gray, married only 6 months ago, met her husband in Denver, Colorado just when she had decided to return home to North Carolina. She met Mr. Fitch while car shopping and he sold her on not only a car, but himself as well.

New bride Gray admitted being puzzled by the corrections needed in Denver's high altitudes for proper baking results. Of course this Christmas, once she moved from Denver, she received a cookbook with a whole section devoted to high altitude recipes--always the way, Gray.

Mrs. Connie Poulin, a former student at NHC, is the new receptionist at the front desk in Frost Hall. Connie was previously employed by Public Service as a bookkeeper and at Sanders Associates as an accounting clerk.

Mrs. Poulin resides in Allenstown with her husband Bill, who is a graduate of NHC and is presently working in the MIS Department here on campus.

When asked about outside interests, Connie talked about her husband. She said, "Bill is a former member of the Stone Cross, and is now playing with a new group."

She enjoys being at NHC and says, "It's a pretty good job."
